Visiting objectives

When all these exhibitors are put under one roof, I can meet many companies and save a lot of time. What initially takes me a month can now be done in a few days. We have been in this industry for 29 years so we know what we need, the pricing as well as the type of products we can sell.

Importance of the fair

Extending your exposure beyond the booths!

A series of fringe programme events are held in the fair, bringing inspiration to the industry. Exhibitors can gain more exposure by participating in these events and deliver the latest products and market information to a wide range of industry players.

Last year, the International Trend Committee, which was comprised of well-known designers and led by trend forecaster the NellyRodi™ Agency, developed the trend theme keyword for the upcoming year. The key word which applies to the home textiles industry for 2017 is FAR AWAY.
